The joint venture terms also include an option for Zodiac to acquire 100% of the Troy Creek project from Empire. The essential terms agreed to are:

- Zodiac will take over operational control of the Troy Creek project and conduct further exploration and development.
- Zodiac will acquire a 55% interest in Troy Creek by spending $3 million on exploration and development within three years with at least $250,000 to be incurred within the first 12 months.
- Zodiac can increase its interest in Troy Creek to 75% by expenditure of an additional $4 million on exploration and development of the project within five years.
- Zodiac has the option to acquire a 100% interest in the Troy Creek project from Empire at any time within five years of commencement of the joint venture at the agreed purchase price of $5 million – a figure separate to the joint venture exploration commitments.

Empire's Managing Director, Mr. David Sargeant, said:

"The joint venture will enable a more vigorous evaluation of the Troy Creek project. Zodiac, as operator, will be in a position to commence field work at Troy Creek with the aim of building a solid foundation of data to be utilized in discovering potentially world class deposits of copper-gold and PGM deposits."

For personal use only

“The terms also ensure Empire can concentrate on its flagship copper-gold projects elsewhere in Western Australia without incurring further expenses at Troy Creek but with the upside of potentially realizing substantial proceeds from the project’s sale.”
